Golf is a game of experiences. The golf course can be a place of mental and spiritual health, a destination to bring friends and family together. As much as anything, golf is about community.

Through a global pandemic, Canadians turned to golf in a big way. Golf Canada members posted more scores than any year in recorded history. New and returning golfers experienced the game and invested in the sport like never before. A community of excited golfers enjoyed the game safely and reminded us that golf, like life, is about the moments we share and the people we share them with.

As the National Sport Federation and governing body, Golf Canada is proud to represent more than 1,500 member clubs and over 300,000 members. Together with provincial, national, and international partners, Golf Canada is committed to providing resources and services to drive value and growth to our entire membership. We are also focused on engaging with public players and facilities and delivering robust tools and services that enhance the value proposition of our membership.

Our investment in the sport could not be possible without the incredible support of our members and partner facilities. Thank you for helping to enhance the golf experience and for being such an important part of our community.

Golf Canada is committed to enhancing the golf experience for enthusiasts of all ages and creating value for our proud member facilities. The launch of the new Golf Canada app, continual improvements to the Golf Canada Score Centre, implementation of the World Handicap System and the launch of First Tee – Canada reflect our commitment to servicing facilities and continuing to deliver new and exciting benefits at the club-level.

A. Course Rating and Handicapping

As a Golf Canada member, your facility is an important part of the World Handicap System (WHS)! The two key aspects of the WHS – the Rules of Handicapping and the Course Rating System – work together to make the game of golf more equitable and enjoyable for all.

An official Handicap Index allows golfers to measure performance and enables players of differing skill levels to compete equitably. Golfers can post scores online or through the Golf Canada mobile app to establish or maintain your Handicap Index. When posting hole-by-hole scores, the necessary adjustments will be made automatically and golfers can track key statistics around their game.

Looking to improve your knowledge about the Rules of Handicapping? Register for Golf Canada's FREE online seminar to learn more or become a certified Handicap Official!

Official Course and Slope Ratings are issued to all Golf Canada member facilities. The ratings take into consideration factors that affect the playing difficulty of the course and allows golfers to establish and transport a Handicap Index to any rated golf course.

B. Golf Canada Score Centre

The Golf Canada Score Centre is the primary hub for facilities, groups, and leagues to manage their membership rosters and enroll golfers into the suite of Golf Canada membership benefits.

A number of modifications have been made to the Score Centre to ensure a simple process for managing a club roster. Facilities and league administrators have access to a suite of tools, benefits, and reporting functionality to ensure that golfers have easy access to Golf Canada's membership benefits and services including the Handicap system for equitable competition and games among players.

C. Golf Canada App

Launched in 2020, the new Golf Canada app is a free tool for Canadian golfers to find a course, track their scores, enhance their on-course experience, and to go digital with their game! With a new look and feel plus dynamic game-improvement features like stat tracking and course GPS, the Golf Canada app lets users manage every aspect of their golf experience using their smartphone.

The new app is also a powerful marketing tool for facilities to engage directly with golfers. Keep your facility information and imagery current and use the Golf Canada app to help promote your product to golfers.

E. Hosting Championships

Golf Canada's national amateur competitions along with Provincial professional championships play a crucial role in providing a competitive pathway for all amateur golfers in Canada. These Championships are instrumental to Long-Term Player Development (LTPD) and play a role in creating champion golfers at the highest levels of competition. The success of these championships is only possible through the support of proud member clubs who host and welcome golfers from across Canada and around the world. These championships help create exposure for facilities, build a legacy of excellence and provide a platform for clubs to give back to the game.

Interested in Hosting a National Championship at your club? Please contact Adam Cinel, Senior Manager, Amateur Championships and Rules at: acinel@golfcanada.ca

Looking at hosting Regional Qualifiers or Provincial Championships? Please visit your Provincial Association website for more information.

F. COVID-19

In 2020, the Golf Canada Foundation, with help from industry partners and stakeholders, created the COVID-19 Relief Fund to help clubs offset some of the costs of personal protective equipment (PPE) as well as green fees for front line workers and juniors. The program was very successful and will be continued for 2022.

OVERVIEW

With the COVID-19 Relief Fund, facilities were eligible to receive up to $1000 by submitting receipts and filling out an online application.

RELIEF FUND STATISTICS

The COVID-19 Golf Relief Fund raised $455,484 and helped subsidize the following:

- $364,299 has been granted to Canadian golf clubs;
- 372 golf clubs have been supported across Canada;
- 16,910 employees have been provided supported with non-medical PPE (personal protective equipment), as well as sanitization, hygiene, and other protective materials;

G. Rules of Golf

As the National Sport Federation and governing body, and in partnership with the R&A, USGA and Canada's Provincial Golf Associations, Golf Canada is responsible for overseeing the Rules of Golf in Canada.

RULES MODERNIZATION LAUNCHED IN 2019

In recent years, golf's governing bodies collaborated to deliver a modernized rules initiative. The primary intent was to push the sport and its rules into a revised language that best reflects our current game.

Golf Canada in partnership with the provincial golf associations have created several documents to help facilities understand and implement recently implemented rules changes. Numerous publications, seminar opportunities, online educations, and video are resources available on the Golf Canada Rules of Golf page.

ASK AN EXPERT FEATURE

Golf Canada provides an "Ask an Expert" resource to help member facilities or leagues with any concerns or questions surrounding a competition. While nothing can replace an onsite referee, this resource can be a valuable resource when a question arises during a competition.

Do you have a question for our Rules Experts? Please email: smrules@golfcanada.ca

H. Golfer Retention Campaign - GOLF IS CALLING

The GOLF IS CALLING campaign is an industry-wide marketing push for Canadians to play golf in 2022.

Developed in partnership with Golf Canada's Industry Advisory Council with the support of industry partners, the GOLF IS CALLING campaign features a vibrant look and feel and is supported by a bilingual portal and marketing toolkit of video, static, and graphic assets available to golf courses and industry stakeholders who can share in the national launch.

ASSET PORTAL

Over 700 unique assets have been created, with many having the ability to be fully co-branded with your facility's logo. Operators can create their own call-to-action and customized assets to support your facility's marketing efforts. Help get the word out to your golfers! Access the Asset Portal here.

RECREATIONAL HANDICAP USAGE

Not only is a Handicap a great measuring stick in seeing how your game compares with golfers at your club and on a Regional, Provincial and National basis – it's also a fantastic way to measure your improvement in your game. Track advanced statistics and get the most out of your game using the Golf Canada mobile app statistics feature.

Also, your Official Golf Canada Handicap is a 365-day membership that is certified under the World Handicap System and is fully transferable as you play in leagues and competitions GLOBALLY!

If you're looking to make continued strides in your game and lower your Handicap, we always encourage you to take lessons from our friends at the PGA of Canada – for more information and how to find a pro closest to you, please click here.

McLennan Ross Alberta Junior Tour

The McLennan Ross Alberta Junior Tour is a collection of 25 single day junior golf tournaments held at golf courses throughout the province between July 1st and August 31st, perfect for when the kids get out of school for the summer.

albertagolfjuniors.org/about-the-mclennan-ross-alberta-junior-tour

Athlete Development Program

The Athlete Development program is designed to support golfers throughout the province reach their competitive goals in the sport. Support is provided to athletes, coaches, and facilities through a tiered program that includes local camp grants, interprovincial team opportunities as well as funding for high performance athlete development. The tiered support program also provides a roadmap for players to follow from their journey at the club level (Tier 1) through to International Competition (Tier 4).

Foundation Scholarship Program

The Alberta Golf Association Foundation is focused on supporting students on their path to pursue a post-secondary education. Each year the Foundation awards approximately 50 scholarships and $50,000 to deserving applicants. These scholarships are awarded due to the donations of competitors, endowments from loyal patrons, supporters of the game and a casino fundraising initiative.

Youth On Course

Youth on Course was started a decade ago by the Northern California Golf Association to provide youth ages 6-18 affordable life-changing opportunities through golf. Youth on Course members now have access to golf for $5 or less at over 1,400 participating courses in 50 States and 2 provinces.

Every junior member of Golf Canada / Alberta Golf receives a complimentary Youth on Course membership and since 2019 more than 10,000 rounds of golf have been subsidized in Alberta at courses throughout the province.

Golf Canada is committed to supporting facilities in the delivery of world-class junior golf programming. Through multi-faceted on-course activities and in-school programming that reaches 440,000 youngsters annually, junior golf is a conduit to creating the next generation of golfers. New in 2022 is the exciting launch of First Tee – Canada, a partnership that will see First Tee’s youth development and character building emphasis strengthen Golf Canada’s junior golf activities that reach kids in schools and at golf facilities.

A. National Junior Skills Challenge

The Junior Skills Challenge is an online and interactive program that focuses on developing the key golf skills of putting, chipping and driving. An online leaderboard allows site coordinators to upload players’ scores so they can track their improvement. Using the data, players are ranked nationally by age group, and by scores on the National Leaderboard.

AGE CATEGORIES

The four age groups are 8 and under, 9 to 11, 12 to 14 and 15 to 18 years old. The top ranked players from local events go on to compete in their respective Junior Skills Challenge Provincial Qualifiers. Top competitors nationally are invited to compete in the annual Junior Skills Challenge National Event.

B. First Tee

Golf Canada and First Tee partnered to launch First Tee – Canada in 2021. The partnership will see First Tee’s youth development emphasis strengthen Golf Canada’s junior golf activities that reach kids in schools and golf facilities. The innovative First Tee curriculum will focus on empowering young people to build character through the game of golf. Multiple chapters are targeted to launch in 2022 (British Columbia, Ontario, Alberta, and Quebec) with additional chapters being established across Canada through 2023.

OFFICIAL WEBSITE

Information on the First Tee - Canada, it’s program and services, and how to get involved can be found on the First Tee Canada website.

Conducting championships is core to Golf Canada's mandate. For more than a century, Golf Canada's national amateur competitions as well as the many provincial golf championships have supported athlete development at the highest level. Canada's greatest players and golfing heroes have challenged our finest courses to etch their names in the storied history of Canadian amateur golf.

A black and white photograph of a golf course. In the foreground, a golfer in a white shirt and dark trousers is bent over, preparing to hit a golf ball. A caddy in a white uniform stands nearby. A large crowd of spectators, including men, women, and children, is gathered in the background, watching the golfer. The scene is set on a grassy slope with trees in the distance. The word "HERITAGE" is overlaid in large white letters on a dotted background, flanked by red L-shaped brackets.

In 1895, the Canadian Golf Association was founded by 10 member clubs: Royal Quebec Golf Club, Royal Montreal Golf Club, Royal Ottawa Golf Club, Kingston Golf Club, Rosedale Golf Club, Toronto Golf Club, Hamilton Golf & Country Club, London Golf Club (ex.), Winnipeg Golf Club (ex.), Victoria Golf Club. More than 125 years later, chronicling and celebrating the proud history of Canadian golf remains a pillar to Golf Canada's mission within the membership team.

- We are delighted to join facilities that are celebrating milestone anniversaries by providing gifts for 25, 50, 75, 100 & 125 year anniversaries
- Interested in learning where all current and former Canadian golf clubs existed over golf's history? Please visit our Interactive Course History Map at ch.golfcanada.ca
- Clubs looking to learn more about the history of their facility, understand the development of the sport in Canada or donate item of significance to the Canadian Golf Hall of Fame archives and museum can contact Director, Heritage, Meggan Gardner at mgardner@golfcanada.ca
